Expand your Reach and Create Lasting Global Connections with the Right HR Audience

Do you want to showcase your leadership development and training expertise, solution or service to top HR professionals? HR.com– the trusted source for current information on training, HR, and organizational development–brings you the Human Experience Summit.

The Human Experience Summit is a unique virtual experience that will include interactive roundtable discussions, five diverse tracks full of valuable workshops/breakout sessions, inspiring keynote presentations, and the distinguished LEAD awards—all to help develop, forge and celebrate leadership excellence.

Greater Network

The Human Experience Summit attracts Senior Level HR Executives (CHRO, SVP HR, CLO and other senior HR functions) from around the globe. This interactive virtual event will allow you to expand your reach and create deep relationships with potential clients and partners. You will have the opportunity to meet attendees not only on a professional level, but you will leave with more friendships.

Positive Employment Branding

By sponsoring the Human Experience Summit, you are associating your company name with an event that is dedicated to improving employee development through leadership training. Elevate your company employment brand with recognition as an organization that cares about the growth of their employees. Take advantage of the opportunity to present your expertise to showcase just how amazing your organization is to work with.

Gain Exposure with HR Industry Leaders

The Human Experience Summit brings together the most esteemed group of HR leaders and influencers. Broadcast your message and showcase how you and your organization are changing the world of work. Present the initiatives your organization has that focuses on the development of your leaders and gain exposure as an industry leader in leadership development.

Engagement and Recognition

Are you leading your team experience in your organization to optimize engagement?

The future is all about going beyond the employee experience to focus on human experience. Now's the time to rethink the way you engage and recognize customers and your workforce. Join this track to know which parts of the human experience you should be focusing on, how to invest in it, and more!

OKR and Goals

Without vision, your teams are working in the dark. They may be getting things done, but without purpose they cannot contribute and align with company-wide objectives. In this track, you will learn how to implement, lead and obtain strategic goals.

Leadership (LEAD)

The established LEAD lives on in this track! LEAD is dedicated to building leaders.

Are you leading leaders in your organization? Then this track is for you. This track will provide insights and expert strategies for building yourself up and inspiring your team to become modern leaders of the future.

Culture

In today's work environment, having a healthy company culture is an essential tool to attract and retain the best employee talent. Why? In this track, we will talk about the elements that make a good company culture and some of the ways in which HR departments can influence and define it.

Education

This track offers the opportunity to hear the most admired leaders in Higher Education share their stories and strategies to solve their most pressing HR challenges. Take advantage of this unique opportunity and have your burning questions answered and move beyond.

I have to admit, every speaker, the ability to learn from my peers, and the recognition with some of the greatest programs in the world was outstanding!

Shine the Spotlight on your Clients

They'll love you for it

To say 2020 is a challenging year would be an understatement. It's time to shine the light on the many positive things out there -- especially all the awesome Leadership Training and Development programs. Help us spread good vibes by nominating one of your client's programs for the 38th annual LEAD Awards. Whether it's a project you have collaborated with them on or not, you will be in their good books for putting them in the spotlight. You can end the year on a positive note by helping your client earn recognition among other top level organizations for having successful leadership training programs.

For over 37 years, The LEAD awards have helped elevate brand awareness for business from small organizations all the way up to Fortune 1000 companies by showcasing their leadership in developing innovative, viable and strong workforces. Do good and feel good by nominating your client to be acknowledged at this year's LEAD Awards happening virtually on November 19th.
